Who are we? Weâ€™re CareerSpot, and we are carving out a reputation as the best place to list and access the latest jobs, news and events for your industry.

We are all about delivering quality digital content â€“ news, jobs, conferences, events and education opportunities - broken down by industry.

No filler, no guff, no irrelevant copy or expired jobs â€“ just the content you need to keep on top of whatâ€™s happening in your sector.

Trusted by major national research facilities, top universities, premier environment and water industry leaders as well as dozens of local, state and federal government departments, we have rapidly become a central site for advertisers who want experienced, qualified professionals to see their listings, and career-driven professionals who want quality content delivered to them digitally.

100% Australian owned and operated, weâ€™ve been live for close to five years now. Backed by incredible in-house IT, writers, a fantastic sales and admin team â€“ weâ€™ve built a professional database that delivers content to more than 140,000 subscribers and MySpot account holders across 15 different industries every week.

Our ethos is to provide quality content, exceptional customer service and systems to both our advertisers and subscribers.

We are a custom-built loading and delivery system, designed to constantly expand and evolve in order to provide exactly the information and display options our clients need.
